1. CHAIRPERSON'S ADDRESS

I am delighted to introduce the new Hurling Development Plan for our province. Exceptional work has been done on this project by all Committees, in collaboration with Coaching Staff in each of our counties. We extend our heartfelt thanks to them for their dedication and effort in creating this plan.

Following consultation with all stakeholders, which included the National Hurling Committee, Connacht Council, County Boards and Clubs, a plan was constructed. We also express our gratitude to the counties who have committed to setting aside one evening a week solely for hurling fixtures. This programme will ensure competitive games for all participants, with teams of equal standard facing each other. Additionally, the plan aims to establish structures for underage players in existing clubs initially, with a long-term vision of identifying locations across the province where new clubs might emerge.

I wish the plan and all benefiting clubs the very best of success. Hopefully, as the plan evolves, not only will hurling maintain its presence, but it will also thrive throughout Connacht.

2. BRIEF HISTORY OF HURLING IN CONNACHT

Hurling has been played in Connacht for hundreds of years. The first recorded reference to hurling dates back to 1272, of a match played at Moytura near Cong, Co Mayo. Hurling was banned by the Galway Statutes in 1527. Pat Larkin (Kiltormer) is credited with framing the first set of rules of Hurling called the "Killimor Rules". Ned Treston of Gort made the first standardised hurling ball.

In 1975 Comhairle Connacht set up a provincial Coiste Iomana, which was made up of members from each of the five Connacht counties. The Coiste's simple aim was to promote hurling throughout the province and to coordinate the various championships and competitions.

Over the years Coiste Iomána and Comhairle Connacht would work hand in hand for the promotion of hurling, and many projects were funded and carried out in the various counties - including visits to Co. Boards, attendance at meetings of Vocational and Secondary School bodies and the organisation of coaching courses for hurling.

Eventually each county saw the appointment of full-time Coaching Officers who have for many years continued the work in spreading the gospel of hurling all over Connacht.

This plan will continue the vision of those who have gone before us in helping to promote and grow the game of hurling for the coming years.

3. PLANNING PROCESS

- Through the Connacht GAA Coaching and Games (C&G) Committee under chairperson, Pdraig McGourty; Connacht Provincial C&G manager, Cathal Cregg, and assistant Provincial C&G manager, Damian Curley, were tasked with developing a plan to promote hurling in the province
- For the purposes of this plan, it was decided to focus on the four developing hurling counties (Roscommon, Mayo, Sligo and Leitrim) as it was felt by the Connacht Coaching and Games Committee that this is where the need is greatest. Galway hurling is developed simultaneously with football in the county and is at a different stage in terms of development and tradition.
- Meetings took place in September 2024 with the County Head of Games, Thomas Keenan (Leitrim), Padraic Mitchell (Roscommon), Liam Óg Gormley (Sligo), and Billy McNicholas (Mayo), who each have specific responsibility for developing Gaelic Games in the four counties.
- This was followed by a meeting with the county hurling Games Development Coordinators (GDCs) Darragh Cox (Sligo & Leitrim), Proinsias Killion (Roscommon), and Cian O'Toole (Mayo) in October 2024, who each have specific responsibility for developing hurling in the four counties.
- Supporting existing clubs, development of new clubs, combined academy squads and increasing support from full time staff were the four main themes that came from these meetings.
- From this point on we presented the four themes for discussion.
- The four areas and possible solutions were presented to the Connacht Council in October 2024 and feedback was gathered from the council members.
- Following this, four separate meetings took place with the key officers of each of the four county boards and their fixtures committees. The nights again included a presentation on the four themes followed by breakout sessions to gather all feedback from the officers in what should be included in the plan.
- The 28 clubs currently playing hurling in the developing counties were invited to a meeting in the Connacht GAA COE. The night involved a presentation on the four themes followed by breakout sessions where all feedback from clubs was collated.
- Finally, a meeting with the chairperson and secretary of the National Hurling Development Committee took place to get their thoughts on the plan to that point.

6. IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

ACTIVITY AREAS

ACTIVITY AREA 1: MAINTAIN AND SUPPORT EXISTING CLUBS

Rationale: To ensure that all our current hurling clubs remain active and are strengthened and supported to maximise their potential.

Below is a detailed summary of the overall actions for this area, followed by summaries of the actions, success measures and expected improvements throughout the course of the three-year plan.

Summary of Actions

1. Commit to providing a Games Programme for Juvenile and Adult players. This is to include Go Games, Táin Óg, County Championships, Cú Chulainn League and a talent academy programme through Celtic Challenge and Hibernia League.
2. Make Táin Óg and Cú Chulainn Leagues the “County League” fixtures programme i.e.: clubs play these games as their league and then play championship within county. This is to ensure all clubs get an adequate number and standard of games. Clubs currently playing competitions in other counties will be asked to commit to this new programme, to ensure fixture clashes are avoided.
3. Enhance the Coach Education Programme to include Introduction to Gaelic Games Course (ICGG) for all Nursery/Underage coaches and Award 1 Course for Youth coaches. Informal and online Coach Education would also be included in areas such as Nursery and Go Games programmes. Currently courses are being provided but uptake from hurling coaches is poor.
4. Taster hurling sessions led by staff for identification of players and parents from non-hurling clubs. Target existing football clubs surrounding hurling clubs/hubs and direct to the hurling clubs. (Hub Model)
5. Identify volunteers and teachers not currently linked to clubs, who have an interest in developing hurling. This will be done through a co-ordinated recruitment campaign.
6. Provide the Connacht GAA Club Support Programme to clubs who wish to take part or clubs identified by county officers and staff as in need of the programme. This programme helps clubs to assess their current situation, what they are doing and helps them develop a plan for improvement.
7. Ensure each club has a club planning document form filled out. It is essential that a club has a plan in place so development can happen into the future.
8. Club Development Officer (CDO) - encourage clubs to take part in the CDO scheme to create/strengthen link between schools and club.
9. Provide hurling at every staff run Cúl Camps in the 4 counties.
10. Maximise the Hurley/Helmet scheme for schools and clubs.
11. Encourage clubs to run a dual nursery programme where kids get a taste of both hurling and football.
